RUMORS ABOUT R. & D. STOCK ON WALL STREET.

Clyde's Theory of the Occurrence-Heavy Sales of Stock-The New Men in Charge-The Elberton and Chicago Railroad

Special Dispatch to The Constitution

NEW YORK, October 12 .- The recent change in Danville excite great attention. Not only has the bear movement been remarkable but the changes in ownership attract attention To-day on the street the stock was at 63. Clyde's theory of the break is that some New York parties were overloaded, and the bears took the opportunity to break down the stock afforded by the calling of loans. Clyde says the road was never more prosperous. It has more business than the rolling stock can handle, and the company has 51 per cent Ter minal stock in the treasury, worth at present prices over five millions, and owns over six millions connecting road bonds. What ever the cause of the break may be, it is certain that the control of the road has passed from Richmond to New York. A syndicate composed of Geo. Pullman, H. B. Plant, R. T. Wilson and Jim Keene bought privately last week 10,000 shares of Danville and Terminal. Stewart, of Richmond, sold his stock on open market. Part of it was bought by the Standard Oil, which has recently been a large buyer. The transfers have not been yet completed, but it is known that Robert Harris, of the Eric road, will become a director, representing Rockafeller's interest. Colonel Buford retains his interest, and Clyde, Logan and Standard Oil now control the road. Rumor has it, however, that Cassatt may possibly become interested in the road. General Foreacre left this afternoon. It is impossible to get further details.

Chicago, October 12.—The details of a great scheme leaked out this afternoon on the board of trade. It is alleged that W. H. Vanderbilt and David Daws, of New York, Peter McGeach, Carsaw and others, of Chicago, have formed a syndicate, with a capital of $13,000,000, to manipulate year wheat and corner the Chicago, St. Louis. Milwaukee and New York markets. The plan is to send bidders through the country to contract for all actual grain. They will hold it back and force the price up, and then unload at high prices. Rushing in great quantities and breaking the market, keeping up theheavy receipts until thelongs are shaken out, and then repeating the operations, scalping both ways and realizing enormous profits. Ing both ways and realizing enormous profits. The same syndicate is now operating in near options to disguise their plans. When Vanderbilt was here Monday a conference was held, but the operations begun last month and the market is already heavily oversold. THE PENSACOLA PLAGUS Thirty-three New Cases and Six Deaths Report Pensacola, Fla., October 12.-An imperfect report gives 33 new cases of yellow fever to-day and 6 deaths. The total number of cases to date is 443, and the total deaths 128. Among the deaths have been those of Rev. Mr. Duboise, pastor of the Methodist church, and of young Hawkins, mentioned in yester-day's dispatch. Among the new cases are those of Dr. White, of the United States marine hospital service, and of Dr. Renshaw, who had already recovered from an attack of the epidemic. The illness of these two practitioners, with another already sick, causes a serious another already sick, causes a serious lack of medical attention to the sufferers, and renders the report of the new cases imperfect.

The recent cases have been marked by aggravated malignancy. There was a brilliant display of zodiacal light this morning.

THE NEWS IN WASHINGTON.

Special Dispatch to The Constitution.

WaSHINGTON, October 11.—When the brief announcement of the death of Representative Lowe was received here by telegraph to-day, it was surmised by some of his friends that he had fallen in a duel, for the reason that he had recently received several challenges, and that he had not, so far as his friends knew, been sick. In reply to a telegram of inquiry, D. B. Henderson, secretary of the republican central committee received at a late hour to-night the following: "Colonel D. B. Henderson, Mr. Lowe Lowe was received here by telegraph to-day. Henderson: Mr. Lowe D. B. died a natural death. The gen-general sentiment favors D. D. Shelby, as his successor. Think that the best. You must aid the district as much as possible." This was signed by George Turner, chairman republican state executive committee. It is said that the late representative Lowe, before leaving Washington, entrusted to friends here what is described as a sort of political will; to be opened in the event of his sudden death, and that in this will he expressed a strong desire that Paul L. Jones, a prominent greenbacker of Alabama, should

CAT AND ALLIGATOR.

Story Told by a Truthful Citizen of Americus

The following was told us by a gentleman who saw the occurrence: I had been fishing for bream in a slough that runs up from th Flint, for about an hour, sitting quietly on the bank, and had caught about a dozen when a small alligator crawled out on the when a small alligator crawled out on the bank directly opposite me and went to sleep. It was probably about four and a half feet long, and I was trying to concoct a plan to capture it alive, as I had no gun with me to shoot it. I suppose it had lain asleep about half an hour when I saw a very large wild cat on the same side of the slough, picking its way along towards the sleeping alligator, which had dried off and looked like a rusty chunk of wood. As it got close enough it chunk of wood. As it got close enough it stepped on the tail of the 'gator and com-menced scratching the bark off, as you've seen house cats do. The 'gator soon awakened and flirted the cat around, caught it in its mouth, and then commenced a fight. Alli-gators seldom turn anything loose after they get hold, and the cat growled, spit, cratched and bit fearfully. I could see the 'gators blood all under its throat that the sharp claws of the hird feet of the cat cut into every time they struck. The alligator shook the eat like a terrier shakes a rat, and soon they rolled into the water and made it boil in their struggles. Presently they sank from sight, but in a few seconds the cat rose to the top, made a few struggles and expired. A few minutes after the alligator crawled out on my side of the creek with one eye scratched out, and lying still for ten minutes, I approached, struck it on the head with a pine knot, but found it also dead. On turn-ing it over I found its throat scratched clear of an organized movement among the negroes to massacre the whites and prunder their houses. Coloring was given this rumor by frequent secret meetings of the negroes and a day a trusty negro informed Mr. that the rumors were not without dation, and that a plot had been perfected and that the work would be done between Friday, the 13th, and Sunday, the 15th, and no quarter would be given. Mr.Sasser quickly spread the news and a regular stampede was created, a number of families hastily packing a few things in wagons came on to this city for protection, leaving that night. They reached here yesterday morning and are now quartered here and in Brownville.

Those in the wagon train which arrived yesterday were Rev. William Capps and family, Josiah Sikes and family, Burrell Jackson and family, Eb Edwards and family, Tye and family, Eb Edwards and family, Tye Ramsey and family, numbering in all about fifty people, men women and children. It is said that a number of others were on the road coming yesterday. That these people should have left their homes unprotected and sought protection thirty miles away, indicates how fully they believe their is foundation for their fright. However, we can but think they have acted with undue haste. That there are negroes who prey on the credulous of their race with wild schemes of rapine and bloodshed for the purpose of bleeding them of their earnings in contributions to the cause we have not a doubt, but that they would lead in an open outbreak we do not believe. These vampires are usually found in the person of the "zorters," whose principal attention is given "zorters," whose principal attention is given to the taking wp of collections between "prars." The matter should be thoroughly investigated, and if there be the slightest foundation for the rumors, the ringleaders should be promptly and severely dealt with.

The Questions Which Have Come Up Before the Commission During the Year, How They Have Eeen Met, and What Has Been Officially Accomplished—A Good Showing.

OFFICE OF THE RAILROAD COMMISSION. Atlanta Ga., October 15, 1882.-To His Excellency, Alfred H. Colquitt, Governor: We present your excellency our report of the action taken by this commission since the date of our last report.

In former reports submitted, we said all in reference to the powers of the commissioners which we think should be said, in explanation of the law and the provisions of the constitution under which the commission was created. The experience of three years of the operations of the commission, under the law, certainly serves to illustrate the question of the wisdom or folly of maintaining it. view we have deemed it proper to merely submit here our action since our last report, with the reasous that controlled us in arriving at the conclu herewith presented. Circular No. 15 is as follows:

1. Corn field and all other peas, car load or less han car load, will be placed in class D, standard tariff.

2. Marl, ground limestone and slacked lime: in sacks or casks, in car loads or less than car load in

2. Marl, ground limestone and stacks or casks, in car loads or less than car load in sacks or casks, in car loads or less than car load in class L.

While the contents of this circular indicate the purpose for which it was passed, we beg to here present the reasons which influenced the commission in taking this action. The first clause of the order was intended to encourage the production of one of the most valuable agricultural products of our state. By cheapening the races of transportation we placed the Georgia farmer, in the growth of this product, upon equal footing with producers in other states. The general public have been benefitted and the railroads have not suffered thereby. The most duragram in of this circular was passed upon states. The general public have been beneatted and the railroads have not suffered thereby. The second paragraph of this circular was passed upon the suggestion of the state commissioner of agriculture. His purpose in making, and ours for adopting, the suggestion was to render it practicable for the people of the state to utilize a cheap, but very valuable fertilizing material, which exists in limitless quantities in this state, We feel confident in saying that this object will be accomplished in a large measure, to the benefit both of the railroads and the general public.

Circular No. 16, of date July 16th, 1881, reads thus:

thus:
The following changes in classification take effect
August 10, 1881:

The following changes in classification take effect August 10, 1881:
Rags and paper stock, in sacks, crates or hogshead, C. L., Class 6. Same, less than car loads, class 4. Rags in paper stock pressed in bales, C. L. class D, same less than car loads, class 6. The object of the commission in issuing this order, was to encourage the collecting and saving by bur people of artices which enter very largely into the manufacture of paper. The rates upon certain of these articles, before the passage of this circular, had been almost prohibitory. The effect of the order has been to place the paper making interests in our state, more nearly upon an equal footing with similar industries abroad; and that too, in our opinion, without injury to the interests of railroads.

plar No. 17 reads as follows, was passed July

On the Savannah, Florida and Western railway the maximum rates for all distances on cotton (class J.) are hereby made thirty per cent above the "standard" tariff. And on class goods (1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, A, B, C, D, E, F, G, H.) for distances over one hundred miles, twenty-five per cent above "standard" tariff. Other classes remain unchanged. Circular No. 18 bears date of September 1, 1881, and reads:

On the Savannab, Florida and Western, railway.

and reads:

On the Savannah, Florida and Western railway the maximus rates for all distances on cotton (class J.) are hereby made forty-five per cent above the "standad" tariff. by our state laws in all their rights of property, and should give our own public, in the matter of transportation, equal advantages with those given to the people of other states. Complaints to the commission were made by the millers of this state that unjust discriminations in transportation by the railroads were made against their products, in favor of similar industries abroad. It was plain that these discriminations would have the effect of driving these industries from the state, and would paralyze, in a measure, the grain producing interests of Georgia.

After full consideration, the commission concluded that these complaints were just, and passed circular No 20, which they thought would, to some extent, afford a remedy for the evil complained of. We here give a brief statement of the reasons which led us to these conclusions. We would call your excellency's attention to Appendix A, hereto attached for a more full and particular statement of the grounds upon which this action of the commission rests.

of the grounds upon which has been made, on the part of mission rests.

Much complaint has been made, on the part of the railroads, against the effects of this order. The railroads have urged that the order, if enforced, would result in very serious injury to their inter-railroads have urged that the sider, it enforced, would result in very serious injury to their interests.

The Georgia Railroad and Banking company and Wm. M. Wadley, as the lessee of that company, filed their bill against the commission, praying an injunction restraining the operation of this circular and of circular No. 21, on their railroad.

The application for injunction was based, in brief, upon the grounds, first, that the rates required by these circulars were unjust and unreasonable, and secondly, that by a provision of its charter the company was not subject, in the fixing of its rates, to the control of this commission.

The full proceedings in this cause, which is still pending before the supreme court of the state, are hereunto appended. This bill of the complainants, the answer and cross-bill of the complainants, the answer and the supreme court of the state, are forced in a constant of the state of the separate of the with embracing in the body of our report a very short statement of the grounds upon which this or der rests.

One instance alone, quoted from our answer filed in said case will, in our opinion, be here sufficient to show the unjust discriminations practiced by the railroads against the millers and farmers of our state in favor of western millers and farmers.

A Cincinnatior Louisville miller can ship a barrel of 200 pounds of flour from his place to Charleston.

S. C., directly through Atlanta, a distance of 783 miles, for 30 cents per barrel. If an Atlanta miller shipped 300 pounds of wheat from Clucinnati into flour he paid therefor 93 cents freight to Atlanta—a distance of 474 miles. After grinding it into flour he then paid 60 cents per 100 pounds, or $1.20 cents per barrel of 200 pounds of flour freight from Atlanta to Charleston—a distance of 309 miles—making $2.13 per barrel freight that the Georgia miller really paid on a barrel of flour ground in this state as against 30 cents that the Cincinnati and Louisville miller paid freight on a barrel of flour ground there and transported over identically the same roads and the same distance, being a discrimination of $1.83 per barrel against the Georgia miller in favor of the western miller, and against the farmer of our state in favor of the western farmer.

Out of a rate from Cincinnati or Louisville to Charleston, SC the Georgia railroad for hauling I'l miles voluntarily accepted 61.5 cents as tolls on a barrel of flour; but the proportion of the rate on a barrel of flour shipped by a Georgia miller from Atlanta to Charleston, which that road transported 171 miles, was about 32 cents. That is, over tive times as great a rate was collected by the Georgia railroad on a Georgia miller's barrel of flour shipped to Charleston, SC, cas was voluntarily accepted by that road on a barrel of flour shipped by a Cincinnati or Louisville miller the same distance over its road. And in addition the Georgia miller was required to ship as much as a car load of flour to get permitted to ship any quantity, from one barrel up, at the greatly discriminating rates mentioned, granted him by the railroads.

This shows sharply the discrimination against our millers and our people. The rates of circular 23, to which the Georgia railroad so strenuously objected, permitted it to charge 28 cents for carrying a barrel of flour 171 miles, which was more than four and one-half times as much as that road was then voluntarily accepting for the transportation of a barrel of flour shipped from beyond the state. These discriminations manifestly tended, not only to seriously injure our milling and grain producing interests, but of necessity were burdensome and oppressive to our public generally. The commission sought by this circular to place our injustries in question more nearly upon a footing of quality with similar interests abroad. We are satisfied that the enforcement of this order will in large measure, accompaish this very desirable result.

A careful examination of the p occedings in the cause referred to will show that no attempt was made by the Georgia railroad company or by Mr. Wadley to controver the truth of the facts set forth in the answer of the commissioners as to that railroad's discriminations against the people of Georgia therein mentioned. The complainants in the cause seemed content to rely entirely upon the legal proposition that they had the exclusive power by the law of th ir charter to fix their own rates within certain maximum limits.

the law of th ir charter to fix their own rates within certain maximum limits.

As has been already intimated, the chancellor refused the injunction, holding that the company did not have, by the law of their charter, the right to fix rates, as it claimed to have, in this connection we invite your excellency's attention to the fact that, while the injunction was refused by the chancellor, he nevertheless deemed it his duty, under his construction of the law, to allow the restraining order granted against the commission to remain of force until his action would be reviewed by the supreme court of the other railroad in this state, have the benent of the cheapened rates on flour, meal, grain, etc., specified in circulars 20 and 21.

If this rule of practice is held correct by the high-est court, then it is manifest that it would be in the power of the railroads to easily thwart the will of the leavest court, then it is manifest that it would be in the power of the railroads to easily thwart the will of the leavest commission. Another cause of complaint made to the commission was that certain railroads, which were being operated virtually by one and the same corporation, were charging a combination of the maximum local rates allowed, making in many instances the totals of the rates charged, exhorbitant and unjust to the consumer. After investigation the commissioners met this complaint by paragraph 3 of circular 20, which, in their opinion, will correct this evil. Circular No. 21, dated March 3, 1882, is as follows: On and after April 1, 1882, he rates of freight, transported by regular passenger trains, hust not exceed one and one-half the rates allowed by commissioners' "standard tariff," for first-class freight by ordinary freight trains; but a charge of 25 cents may be made for any single shipment.

This circular was passed for the purpose of reducing the charges made by express companies and by the railroads, on shipments by passenger train, and on extra baggage. We thought the taximum charges allowed were too high; and they were more generally complained against than any other character of railroad service, hence this order.

Circular 22 and 24 will be found below. Circular 22 reads thus:

The Georgia Pacific railroad company and the Augusta and Knoxville railroad company are each

The Gainesville, Jefferson and Southern railroad is placed in Passenger Class B, and is permitted to charge four (4) cents per mile passenger fare. This circular to take effect September 15, 1882.

The roads mentioned in these two circulars, being in an incomplete state, and not controlled by connecting railroads, the commission, after investigation, thought proper to allow to them the increased rates named in these circulars.

Circular No. 23, issued by the commission, is in the following terms, and bears date August 4, 1882: On and after September 1, 1882, the maximum rates allowed on rice, in any quantity for any distances will be those of class C with fifty (50) per cent added thereto, and subject to rules in third paragraph of circular 20, dated February [0, 1882].

After due investigation of the subject the commissioners thought that the rates of transportation charged on rice were unjustly and unreasonably high. The effect of circular No. 23 will, in our opinion, be to stimulate the production of rice; and by increasing the quantity of she article transported add to the revenues of the roads, as well as to the wealth of our people.

The experience of nearly two years proved to the

of our people. experience of nearly two years proved to the passenger rates has been to increase the volume of travel on the roads, thus adding to their revenues. In the light of this experience, the commission has acceed to the list of the "three cents per mile" roads or to passenger class A, the roads and branches mentioned in circular 25, passed September 21, 1882, which reads thus:

1. On and after November 1, 1882, in addition to the roads named in preceding circulars, all portions of the followins railroads, branches or leased lines situated in Georgioa, are placed in passenger class A, (ticket rate three (3) cents per mile):

The Alabama Great Southern railroad.

road; the Elberton Air-Line; the Hartwell railroad; the Roswell railroad.

The Rome railroad.

The Rome railroad.

The Savannah, Florida and Western railroad; the Waycross and Florida railroad.

2. Railroads are restricted to the above as maximum rates only, and have full liberty to reduce these rates on all and every character of passenger service at their own option.

3. A railroad may charge 25 cents as a minimum full rate and 15 cents as a half rate, where the tare would be less than these amounts.

The effect of this and previous orders of the commission is to restrict all the railroads, branches and leased roads in this state, to three (3) cents per mile as the maximum ticket rates for passengers, except the Gainesville, Jefferson and Southern railroad and the Knoxville and Augnsta railroad, which are allowed to charge four (3) cents per mile; and the Talbotton railroad, the Sandersville and Tennille railroad, the Louisville and Wadley railroad, the Walton County railroad, and the Gainesville and Dahlonega railroad, which are allowed to charge five (5) cents as maximum ticket rates.

The lumber millers along the lines of the Central railroad and of the Brunswick division of the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad complained tefore the commission that, owing to the depressed price of lumber, they could not continue to operate their mills at the rates of transportation charged by the two roads mentioned. That a suspension of their business would how out of employment hundreds of employes, and prove ruinous to the lumber interests in that portion of the state. The millers also showed that they had applied repeatedly to the railroad authorities for a reduction of rates, but that their applications had been refused. They also showed that they had applied repeatedly to the railroad authorities for a reduction of rates, but that their applications had been refused. They also showed that they had applied repeatedly to the railroad authorities for a reduction of rates, but that their applications had bee upon the subject of the transportation of lumber over the entire state will be found in circular 26, as follows:

The maximum rates on lumber, allowable on the Savannah, Florida and Western railroad, on and after November 1, 1882, will not, for any distances, be greater than the rates for class P, of the commissioners's "Standard Rates," less 20 per cent, deduction from the 'Standard Rates," and in the following paragraph of circular No. 27, viz.: On and after November 1, 1882, the maximum rates on lumber for any distance, on all railroads, in this state, will be twenty (20) per cent, less than the rates on class P, of the commissioners' "Standard Tariff" for the same distance.

A very little reflection is needed to show that the effect of this action, on the part of the commission, will be to open a much more extended field for Georgia timber than was, at first, contemplated by either the millers or the railroad authorities.

In the complaints of the lumber millers, just referred to, nothing more was asked than a reduction of rates from their mills to the ports of Savannah and Brunswick. This, the authorities of the two roads mentioned, at last consented to yield. A thorough consideration of the whole subject, however, led the commission to conclude that it was its duty to unlock, as far as practicable, all the cities and markets of the great west to the lumber men of Georgia. These markets have hitherto been almost entirely supplied over the lines of the Louisville and Nashville railroad and the Alabama Great Southern railroad, from the forests of A'abama and Mississippi. High rates over the Georgia roads had almost entirely explicates ov

It is believed that the reduced rates, under cir It is believed that the reduced rates, under cir-culars 26, 27 and 28, will enable our millers and dealers to lay down their lumber in Nashville, Cin-cinnati or Louisville, for example, upon terms that will enable them to compete successfully with lumber men, who draw their productions from other states. In addition to this, we think that this action will open up more fully the humber markets in our own state, and will tend to encourage, by cheapening this product, the building up of our villages, towns and cities. Circulars Nos. 27 and 28 were passed October 2d, and, under the law cannot go into effect until. No-vember 1, 1882.

Bulle No. I was intended as one of the means of carrying out the principles of the law creating the commission, which we construct to mean the recognition of the right of every man in the state of Georgia to telect his own market, either home or foreign, in which to purchase his supplies or sell his products, without obstruction, on the part of transportation companies, either in the form of unreasonable and unjust rates and arbitrary rules, or by combinations or agreements, expressed or implied, between such companies.

Properly enforced, rule No. 1 will prevent cumulative rates, or what in railroad parlance are known as the "sums of the locals," from being charged on shipments between stations on different portions of connecting roads in cases where such connecting roads are virtually owned, operated or controlled by one and the same carrier. Experience has shown that this rule is not only correct in principle, but beneficial to the public, and reasonable and just to the railroads.

To give a more clear understanding of circulars

27 and 28, we here present extracts from what is therein referred to as circular No. 10, dated August

therein referred to as circular No. 10, dated August 13, 1880;

1. The Central railroad and banking company is authorized to operate their railroads in the following divisions: The Savannah, the Southwestern railroad, the Atlanta the Savannah, Griffin and North Alabama railroad.

2. On the Savannah and Southwestern railroad divisions and the Savannah, Griffin and North Alabama railroad, upon all classes other than "Specials," the maximum freight rates between 30 and 40 miles to be 50 per cent above standard raves: between 40 and 70 miles, 40 per cent; between 70 and 100 miles, 30 per cent, and one hundred miles and over 20 per cent, as heretofore fixed.

3. Upon the Atlanta Division on all classes other than "Specials," the maximum rates to be 30 per cent, over "Standard."

5. A tariff of joint rates on all the roads operated by the Central railroad and Banking Company, prepared with the approbation of the Commission, will be furnished by the company on application.

The Louisville and Wadley railroad and the being owned or operated by a connecting railroad, and the authorities having shown that the standard tariff was not, in our opinion, sufficiently high, we granted that road an additional per centage.

Circular 29, dated October 9th, 1882, was rendered necessary by the extensions of the East Tennesse e, Virginia and Georgia, making its length within the state between the Tennessee state line and Brunswick, Georgia, more than 350 miles, the distance heretofore given in our "Standard Freight Tariff," for which rates had been made. It is as follows:

1. To meet the extensions of railroads within the state, the following additions are made to the "Standard Freight Tariff,"

The class "M" column of the "standard freight riff," between 200 and 350 miles inclusive, is

We have thought it best in this report to conflue ourselves mainly to a simple statement of the circulars, heretofore set forth, issued since the date of our-last report, together with the reasons, in brief, which induced our action in the premises. Many other questions between the railroads and public have been passed upon by this board. The action of the commission, in reference thereto, cannot be here given without making this report too lengthy. Our records will show particularly and at length all our official acts. To these records we especially invite the attention of your excellency and of the legislature.

The effect of the action of this commission upon the interests of the people of the state may be illustrated by giving one instance alone.

The actual saving in rates on the one article of cotton, to the benefit of our cotton producers, will amount, during the present season, to more than a half million dollars, as the present cotton crop of Georgia will, according to the best information, amount to over seven hundred thousand bales. It was soon found that the rates of transportation for cotton, from interior points in our state, agreed upon by the railroads and steamships at a meeting in New York, which were published to take effect September 1,1882, would have to be abandoned, unless the cotton rates frem interior Georgia market to the seaboard cities of Savannah and Brunswich less the cotton rates from interior Georgia markets to the scaboard cities of Savannah and Brunswick were advanced. The determination of this commission not to increase the cotton rates to those cities at that time was publicly known. The result was that at a meeting held in Atlanta, September 13th, the rallroad and steamship combanies agreed to certain reduced cotton rates, which went into effect September 14. 1882.

The manner in which this saving will be effected may be clearly seen by reference to the comparative statement of cotton rates from a few of the markets of our state, given below:

states, to be sufficient for the accomplishment of the purposes for which it was enacted.

We have at present no change in the law to recommend except that a proper increase in the salary of our secretary be made. The compensation now allowed him we consider insufficient remuneration for the great labor devolving upon and the skill and experience required of him in the discharge of his very responsible duties.

Experience has proved that the transportation companies need a power over them which will curtail their growing extravagance and lessen their current expenses for the benefit of their own stockholders. The people need a power sufficient to control these corporations and prevent excessive and discriminating rates, growing out of loose and extravagant management.

This board has constantly kept in view the very desirable object of bringing the railroads and the people to a full recognition of each other's legal and equitable rights.

people to a full recognition of each other's legal and equitable rights.

Apprehensions that the commissioners might abuse their powers have ceased to exist. There is a feeling of confidence that no combination of capital, either home or foreign, invested in railroads can materially injure or effect the public interest, so long as transportation is wisely and prudently regulated by law.

Railroad, manufacturing, mining, agricultural, and every other material interest have, within the past three years, received a remarkable impetus in Georgia. Gonfidence in the Railroad, manufacturing, mining, agricultural, and every other material interest have, within the past three years, received a remarkable impetus in Georgia. Gonfidence in the stability of the value of every species of property in this state; and in our progressive prosperity, a people, is greater than ever before.

All predictions that the action of the railroad commission of Georgia wo did paralyze the railroad interests of the country have falled. An experience of three years of the practical operations of railroads in this state, under the supervision of law, has for that period shown largely increased revenues to the railroad, larger dividends to the railroad stockholders, higher prices for railroad shares, greater volume of business, largely stimulated travel, greatly increased tendency to invest capital in our state, more miles of railroad built, and being built in Georgia, and corresponding benefits to the public generally, and the railroad authorities and the people on better terms with each other than ever before, during a similar period in our history.

You can continue feeling miserable and good for no. thing, and no one but yourself can find fault, but if you are tired of that kind of life, you can change it if you choose.

How? By getting one bottle of Brown' Iron Bit-TERS, and taking it regularly according to directions.

Mansfield, Ohio, Nov. 26, 1881.

Gentlemen:—I have suffered with pain in my side and back, and great soreness on my breast, with shooting pains all through my body, attended with great weakness, depression of spirits, and loss of appetite. I have taken several different medicines, and was treated by prominent physicians for my liver, kidneys, and spleen, but I got no relief. I thought I would try Brown's Iron Bitters; I have now taken one bottle and a half and am about well—pain in side and back all gone—soreness all out of my breast, and I have a good appetite, and am gaining in strength and flesh. It can justly be called the king of medicines.

ATLANTA, GA., OCTOBER 13, 1882.

THE signal service bureau report indicates for South Atlantic states to-day, partly clouldy weather, northerly winds becoming variable, stationary or slight rise in temper ature, stationary or slight rise in barometer.

The news from Ohio, like the break of dawn in the star-spangled banner, shows that "our flag is still there.'

HAMMOND is carrying the canvass into the counties of the fifth with dash and vigor. He meets everywhere with enthusiastic receptions, and is determined to keep up the fire until the day for counting the ballots comes.

COMPTROLLER-GENERAL WRIGHT, in a letter to the Augusta Chronicle, declares that mar-riage associations are "great frauds upon the public." This is discouraging to the Christmas crop of benedicts. The old plan of self reliance is undoubtedly the better plan.

THE death of Hon. William M. Lowe, the greenback member from Alabama, removes a prominent figure from the federal councils. The effort of the political ghouls at Washington, however, to give out the impression that Mr. Lowe did not die a natural death, was no more than could be expected from such a long eared pairiot as D. B. Henderson.

THE overwhelming victory of the democrats in Ohio now redoubles interest in the canvass in New York and Pennsylvania. The election in these two states is set down for the 7th of November-the same day on which Georgia proposes to send up a solid nine to the federal legislature. Cleveland and Pattison are coming names in American politics.

Twiggs, the independent candidate for congress in the eighth district, spends about as much time in Atlanta campaigning as he does in his district. Twiggs is a willing candidate. He is like the school teacher that was hunting for a job, and when asked by the commissioners whether he taught that the world was square or round, said it was imma terial to him; he was out of a job, and was willing to teach that it was either round or square, just as the commissioners wanted

THE OHIO CYCLONE.

The liquor question in Ohio explains s things, but it does not explain all things. It may explain the defeat by signal majorities of the republican candidates for state officers but it is by no means clear that it revolution ized the congressional delegation of the stat democrats of Hamilton county, for ex alumple, gave the state ticket over 10,000 ma rity, but in the two congressional districts of the county, the democratic majority was only about 2.500. The truth is, the radical change in the complexion of the congressional delegation is a double protest against gerrymandering and Hubbellism. The republicans cut up the state under the decennial apportionment in the most fantastic fashion with the avowed purpose of keeping the democratic representation down to five, or the number of Ohio democrats in the present house. This injustice has been rebuked by administering to the party guilty of it almost exactly the same dose they had prescribed for their oppo nents. Then, too, Ohio has been gradually swinging loose from republican mooring The death of Garfield, and the transfer of power to Hubbell, Dorsey, Arthur and the like, has facilitated the movement, and to-day Ohio stands out, beyond reasonable doubt, a

The majority in favor of the democratic state ticket was undoubtedly swelled by the hypecritical position of the republicans, both in the past and at the present time, on the liquor question. The facts are not generally understood. Many years ago the constitution of the state was so amended that the legislatur is precluded from licensing or in any way regulating the sale of liquor. This clause makes the sale of liquor in Ohio as free and untrammelled as that of bread. The republican politicians have all along been conten with this constitutional provision. They have amended the constitution in many re spects during their long ascendancy in the state, but in no case have they seriously tried to charge the provision about the sale of liquor. They were thus able to retain the German contingent, while at the same time they could plausibly tell the prohibitionists that they would lose nothing by trusting the For years they moral-idea party. have been dodging between and the prohibitionists, Germans favoring "free fiquor and no Sunday" in the towns, and advocating prohibition and stringent Sunday regulations in the rural strong holds of the party. This moral dodging has been sadly interfered with of late by the bold stand taken by the prohibitionists. The republican leaders were forced, in the late can vass, to define their positions. Senator Sher-people, while Governor Foste CHIC Deacon Richard Smith believed Kimba" beelying on the aid of prohibition democrats and a grand moral crusade. The republican managers disagreed throughout the canvass and the people began to understand the longstanding hypocrisy of the republican party in ts treatment of the question. No democrat FREE allied to the republican candidates on ac ount of the prohibition issue, some of the Aerman republicans went over to the demoand the staunchest prohibitionists supthe prohibition ticket. And there is Ruman and his supporters endeavored to keep THE J. Ip the policy of dodging by declaring that the nuor question was in no way befor properly rebuked at the polls. Hereafter the republicans will be compelled to face the music squarely on the liquor question, and when they do voters will have no further trouble in finding the ticket that expresses their preferences. A reign of honesty in Ohio politics would be both refreshing and profitable, and it seems to be possible hereafter.

REPORT OF THE RAILROAD COMMISSION

We print elsewhere the report of the rail road commission of Georgia. It is a document of peculiar interest to the people of this state, and we commend it to their thoughtful attention. Practically, it is simply a report of the action of the commission taken since its last report, together with the reasons upon which such action is based; but behind it all lie larger questions than those which ordinarily induce men to take an interest in politics. It touches the question of transporta tion-a question that involves larger interests than any political issue. It is a question, in deed, that touches the rights and prosperity of every citizen and person in the state from the higest to the humblest.

It has been the purpose-the policy-of the commission to foster and protect the interests of the people without thereby injuring the railroads. It has sought to place producers in our own state on a footing with producers in other states, and to develop our agricultural resources by lessening the transportation tax levied by the railroads. It has endeavored to equalize the advantages of transportation and the costs thereof, and it has endeavored to place the humblest shipper upon a relatively equal footing with the

It has given the Georgia farmer an opportunity to reach the best market with his saleable products, and has made it possible for the state to utilize its valuable fertilizing material. It has endeavored to foster, in some degree, our small as well as our large manufacturing interests, all without detriment to the real interests of the corporations.

It has been the policy of the commission, whenever practicable, to bring the railroad authorities together for consultation, so that the action of the board might be in the nature of an equitable compromise between the interests of each. We desire to call particular attention to that portion of the report which is devoted to an account of the discrimination made against Georgia flour. The case is a thoroughly typical one, and ought to attract renewed attention, though it has already been alluded to in these columns.

There seems to be no doubt that the work of the commission has largely benefitted the people, and that it will benefit them a still greater extent in the future. There is no doubt that the taxes levied by the railroads have been reduced and equalized. The only question that any fair-minded man need ask-and it is on which every man can answer for himself-is have the railroads of Georgia been injured; In other words, have their interests suffered This is the whole matter in a nutshell. If the commission has injured the railroads the latter should not hesitate to make the few counties in the state that are not either traversed by the rail or in a day's easy drive of some railroad station. This ready access to market opens up a great opportunity to the farmers of the state, if they will only make a judicious use of it. That opportunity does not consist simply of greater family that improvement will be comparatively small. It consists in the making of a market for many smaller products hitherto neglected or sparingly raised. We are reminded of this by a remark of the Cauton Advance, that "butter, eggs and chickens are like things that were in Canton—buried and forgotten." Similar complaints of the scarcity of such articles are made by other papers. The scarcity at Canton is no doubt due to the extension of the railroad to Jasper within the last few weeks. Before that event Canton was as far as many people of the up-country cared to haul the products that would not pay long wagon transportation. But the extension of the railroad enables them to ship to the larger markets, where they will find a surer ready sale and a better price. It is in this way that railroad extension in Georgia can be made most advantage outs to farmers, if they will properly avail themselves of the opportunity which it affords. It is by simulating their little industries and opening to them a market for products that have hitherto rotted or been wasted on the farms—such as fruit, vegetables and the products of the dairy and poultry yard. It is much to be regretted that this year of bountiful crops finds our country friends so poorly supplied with hogs to fatten and with beef end other live stock for the markets. On account of this scarcity they will lose much of the benefits that might have been derived from their full bins, cribs and stables. It is greatly to be hoped that the conditions now lacking are supplied hereafter. It is thus that they can reap the full benefits of easy and cheap transportation to markets, and thus that they can derive a hand some income from sources hitherto of but little commercial ome income from sources hitherto of but little ommercial profit. Having the means of indepen-ence and thrift, a judicious economy is all that is eeded to make southern farmers prospersus and corressions.

THE STEWART TRAGEDY. The Fannin County Revenue Killing in the Federal Court.

Georgia has had more than her share of troubles between internal revenue officials and the people of the mountain counties. Every session of the United States court in Atlanta shows a dismal array of prisoners, charged with some one of the multitude of offenses against that internal revenue system, of which the hardship severely felt in that Sergeant Ballantine has been asked to go out to Egypt to defend Arabi Pasha. As the learned height in Georgia in the fall of 1879 and the spring of 1880. Several of the northeastern counties were then constantly scoured by revenue raiders looking up illicit distilleries andla large number were taken The revenue officials detailed the horrors of attacks ade on them by the offenders agains the law, and the people complained loudly, and on ood showing, of the severe and often brutal treatneident occurred in Fannin county which tender to keep alive the bitter feelings then aroused for indefinite time. John A. sprobably the best known and most active of the revenue officials in northeast eorgia was, on the night of the 6th of April, attacked by a crowd, who poured a murderous volley into his door as he opened it to look out on his plazing store-house and barn. The story of the earful night is detailed in the evidence given below. Soon after he was attacked Stewart caused the arres of the following named citizens of Fannin and adjoining counties, several of whom were promitheir respective communities: Bearden, Wilson Bryant, George Sparks. John D

Fricks, J W Vandegriff, James Findley, W W Findley, Benjamin M Tilley, Cub Newberry, S J Simmons, Bud Hill, J F Bingham, William Crisp, Sam
White, Jasper Long, Charles Smith, R V Hughes, Bud Roberts, William Teague and Miti Dill. The arrest of so many citizens fanned the flames of the feud and it has raged violently ever since. The accused, after giving bond, were tried in the superior court of Fannin for assault with intent to murder and for arson. On both charges they were acquitted. The charge of conspiracy is now made against them in the United States district court, where the cases of W. W. Findley, James Findley, Jackson Bearden and George Sparks were called before Judge McCay yesterday morning.
The defendants were represented by William Findley, of Gainesville, and George S. Thomas, of Atlanta. District-Attorney Bigby represented the prosecution. A jury was obtained without much difficulty and consists of five negroes and seven white men. The case continued all day and was marked by keen interest in its every detail. It is supposed that the prosecution was about through with its evidence when the court adjourned. The Bearden, Wilson Bryant, George Sparks. John D was marked by keen interest in its every detail. It is supposed that the prosecution was about through with its evidence when the court adjourned. The hearing will be resumed at 90 clock this morning.

THE EVIDENCE.

The first witness called for the prosecution was John A. Stewart, who testified that early in the spring of 1880 he had made several seizures of illicit distilleries as deputy revenue collector operating in Fannin and adjoining counties. He lived in Fannin county four miles from Morganton. On the day of the 6th of Abril he was in Morgan ton. That night he was at home. His son and Mr. Higdon, sheriff of the county, were also there. About 12 o'clock he was aroused, and raising up in bed saw his store house in flames. When he reached the door he could see that the barn was also burning. Just as he opened the door a volley of shots was fired at him from directly in front. The fire made it bright as day all over the yard, but he could not see the parties who fired, as they were hidden behind the fence. Stewart had a pistol in his hand, and he returned the fire of his assailants. As he shot, some of the men out in the road sprang up from behind the fence. His little son and his wife rushed to the door to see what was the matter, but he thirty five or forty shots fired. He saw five men making off down the road. He fired again and then, said the witness, that man Findley there cried: "Oh! G-dd-n you, I've got you now!" Stewart replied: "You come out you cowardly secoundrels and I'll get you!" He recognized John D. Fricks, Benjamin Tilley, Simmons, Newberry.

Walter Findley, and a man he has since learned is James findley. He ran down his plazza and fired at the retreating men until he had emptied his pistod, and then he went back into the flouse to get another. The crowd had pretty soon disappeared, soing toward Morganton. Tilley had a shot grin. The men he recognized lived at various distances from Stewart's house, from eleven to twenty-five miles. Early next morning Stewart, his son and Sheriff Higdon began the pursuit of the mob. Down in the road, near the house, they found plenty of tracks. There had been a light rain the evening before, and the tracks were very plain. One of the tracks threw the sand in a peculiar way, and was such a track as a foot deformed as John D. Frick's foot was would have made The tracks were easily followed directly to the home of Benja min Tilley. The Stewarts and the sheriff reached Tilley's about ten o'clock. Mrs. Tilley saw them coming and ran into the house. J A Stewart spurred up his horse and rushed into the house. Mrs. Tilley appeared excited. The Stewarts and Higdon left the house, but remained concealed where they could get a view of the premises. In a little while they as Mrs. Tilley go across a field to a little house about three hundred yards away. Soon after she reached it a man came out and started toward the river. Then three others came out and pretty soon a fifth man came out and started after the others. There of the men got in a boat and crossed the river. The Stewarts and Higdon cound and caught one man before he could cross Three of the men got in a boat and crossed the river. The Stewarts and Higdon charged down on the retreating crowd and caught one man before he could cross the river. This was Vandergriff. They carried him up to the road and asked him to tell all about the affair.

Here a discussion arose between counsel as to whether the confession alleged to have been made.

confession to be offered as vidence in this case. Stewart, continuing his evidence, said that Walter Findley and Peg Stanley had been at his house the Sunday before the Tuesday night on which his premises were attacked. They said they had come there to see about having some steers. Stewart had seized restored to their owner.

On his cross-examination, Stewart said he knew it was Walter Findley who yelled, at him during the firing, because he recognized the "deceitful tone of his voice."

his voice."

J H Stewart testified to substantially the same facts as his father. He first knew of the fire when he heard his mother scream. He rushed out on the heard his mother scream he rushed out on the piazza and helped his father return the volleys of the mob. He recognized among the assailants Fricks, Tilley, Newberry and Simmons. He knew Simmons because he had captured him in a still a short time before. He saw several other men out in the road, but did not see the Findley's among them. He was shot twice during the attack. Sheriff Higdon said he was sleeping at Stewart's on the night of the attack/ and detailed its particulars substantially as stated. He said the tracks were followed eleven miles, and gave about the same account of the capture of Vandergriff as Stewart had given. On cross-examination he testified that each of the defendants had borne the character of peaceful, law-abiding ciazens.

The prosecution next put up Emerson Greenway, who testified that a few days before the fire at Stewart's he had heard Cub Newberrry and James Findley talking about the capture of the steers by Stewart. Findley said something about "making it right" for Stewart, and asked Cub Newberry what he was going to do about J H Stewart testified to substantially the same ley talking about the capture of the steers by Stewart. Findley said something about "making it right" for Stewart, and asked Cub Newberry what he was going to do about the steers. Newberry said they were not his steers, but Stewart had a fine store with $1,300 worth of goods in it that had better look out for those steers. His wife heard part of the conversation. Mrs Greenway testified that she had heard some conversation between James Findery and Cub Newberry, in which threats similar to those related by her were made concerning Stewart. Several witnesses were introduced to show that during the day before the night of the attack on Stewart they said or thou ht they saw certain of the defendants passing along the road in the direction of Stewart's house. Mrs. Letty, of Morganton, said that about 2 o'clock on the night of the attack on Stewart she saw Cub Newberry, J. W. Vandergriff and Walter Findley coming along the road in Morganton. She lives fifteen steps from the road, and it was a bright night. The men were going towards home, and from the direction of Stewart's. On cross examination she denied that she had bitter feelings towards walter Findley.

The witness was quite vehemen: at times and emphasised her language in a striking manner. Mrs. Adeine: Parker said she had heard Walter Findley say "court before last," in Morganton, that they had burnt out the "d—d———," and would do it again if he did what he had done them. On the night of the attack Jim Findley, Fricks and Vandergrif ate supper at Walter Findley's and all went off together. She was cooking for Findley at the time. He had her charged with stealing before she was a witness in this case. She told Mrs. Leddy, who is her sister, that Findley accused her of stealing and had her arrested. James Findley came home the day after the fire with a bullet in his leg, and they sent him off somewhere. She had never said anything about this case until recently because Walter Findley said he would kill anybody that told anything on him or his children. The prosecution put John A. Stewart then stated that Vandergriff had said he was present at the burning and the attack but took no pag in either. Stewart denied that he hreatened Vandergriff when he confessed. Stewart was asked if he had ever offered to have cases against certain parties nol prossed in this court if they would swear enough to convict the parties now on trial. He denied ever having done so. THE PEACHTREE PAVEMENT.

The question of paying for the macadam road laid Peachtree street was brought to an issue yes'er The city marshal sent bills for the payment at he rate of $1.90 per running foot to all the panied with a notice that unless it was paid in ter days from date a bill of costs amounting to alm ten dollars would accrue and be added to the origi nal bill. There was considerable indignation at this summary demand and the short time allowed for payment. In most cases the bill ran above $200, and in some cases was over $500, and it was held that to allow only ten days for the payment of this was unreasonable. Besides this, it was held that as the street had not yet been finished, it was unfair collect for a part of it, as the contract covered the whole street. It was also alleged that the payment of the tax would be contested by many of the citiens on the ground that the contract had not been

In view of all these facts it was thought that the ne allowed for the payment was too short, and a time allowed for the payment was too short, and a determination was expressed to test the question of costs before the city council, unless the city marshal would waive his demand and give longer time. We understand that only one citizen on the street paid the amount, but that many of them living between Colonel Grant's and the city expressed a willingness to pay. A paper was drawn up by Colonel W 8 Thomson reciting that the people living beyond Colonel Grant's would contest the payment of the tax unless that part of the street was put in such condition as that in front of Colonel Grant's and below. The most casual observer will see that a change was made in the street at that point. The work was done in much better style, smaller rocks were put on top and a different coating given to the work was done in much better style, smaller rock were put on top and a different coating given to the street. Those citizens living beyond Colone Grant's, where the street was laid before the change was made, insist that being as sessed exactly the same amount and under exactly the same amount and under exactly the same contract, they are entitled to as good a street as that laid in front of Colone Grant's and between that point and town. We understand that this paper was signed very generally. In the meantline we suggest to the city marshal, or the city council, that it is not necessary to put these citizens, who have at least a disputable ground for y council, that it is not necessary to s, who have at least a disputable gr citizens, who have at least a disputable ground for refusing instant payment of the tax, to the extra expense of a large bill of costs. In other words, there is no use in issuing fi fas against perfectly sol-vent persons who express a willingness to pay whenever their rights have been established, until ney have had a reasonable time in which to test heir rights.

THE SENATORIAL CONTEST.

A Wholesale Indictment by the Grand Jury Not an Impossibility But Probable.
Things in connection with the senatorial contest

It is positively stated that every man who voted illegally will be indicted If that is done there will certainly be music in the air. It is known that a member of the grand jury endeavored to secure the original of the forged note ordering the chain gang voted, and failing to obtain the original, took a copy. That was prior to its publication

In reply to a question as to what answer, if any,

Whose Unlawful Acts Lead to the Arrest of a Brace of Early yesterday morning a negro man who is known as John Terrell appeared at the stockade and demanded the guard to direct him to the cell occupied by a couple of colored maidens who are serving a term. The guard, of course, declined to comply with Terrell's request, whereupon Terrell drew a revolver and threatened to kill the guard. The weapon did not frighten the guard, who presented his gun causing Terrell to take fright. Soon after leaving the stockade Terrell fell in with Bright Swain, another darkey, and the two proceeded to Terrell's mother darkey, and the two proceeded to Terrell's mother-in-law and with sticks pounded her almost lifeless. For this offense Terrell and Swain were both arrested by Officers Green, Aldridge and Moon and taken to the calaboose where Terrell made a statement which induced the officers to search for and arrest Chas. Williams another colored persons. Against Williams the officers preferred the charge of larceny and in his possession they found a coat, a vest a pair of pants, a shawl and a watch, which were identified by Jack Clark as his property. When Williams was arrested he attempted to cut his way through his captors with a knife. occupied by a couple of colored maidens who are

SWIFT'S SPECIFIC.

TESTIMONY

S. S. Is made from roots gathered from the forests, and is not offered as a triumph of Science. It has been used in Georgia ever since the retirement of the Creek Indians. It was communicated by them to the white settlers, and has cured thousands of the wor steases of Blood and Skin Diseases, in primary, secondary or teriary stage. It thoroughly removes ALL TAINT FROM THE BLOOD and brings back health and happiness. Take it strictly according to directions, and it will cure you saused and well.

SCROFULA.

EURIKA SPRINGS, ARK., Sept. 25, 1882.

Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.:

When Mr. Walker began taking S. S. S. he was in a most wretched condition—the worst case of Scrofula that had ever visited this place. The entire back part of his head was one solid sore, right ear partly eaten off and grown to the bone, left eye badly eaten and right nearly gone; on his right shoulder was as ore broader than your hand, extending down the back, and in places holes you could place your thumb in; his left elbow was one entire sore, running completely around the arm. The above was Mr Walker's condition before beginning to take swift's Specific. He has been taking S. S. now about eight weeks, and the present condition of his case is as follows: The back of his head has healed with the exception of three or four bluces the size of your thumb nail, which still discharges; ear has healed, eye much improved and sight nearly restored; about two-thirds of his shoulder has healed, at which a discharge continues, and elbow is nearly well. All who have seen him were smazed at his mproved dondition. He will be entirely well in a few weeks.

Yours truly.

Hor Spinnes, Ark, July 17, 1882.

About eight years ago an eruption appeared on my face and rapidity pread until it covered nearly my whole body. My attending physician pronounced the disease eczema, and after unsuccessful treatment advised me to come here. I did so and remained several months, and wos somewhat benefited. Very soon, however, after returning home the disease grew alarmingly worse, when I again determined to visit the Hot Springs. It is now nearly five years since my return here, during which time I have energetically applied all the physicians' art (both internal and external) in connection with the celebrated thermal hot baths, and in addition to all this have taken mars than a hundred bottle's of various medicines, without the desired result. Up to three months ago I had about concluded my case was incurable, and with all septicism possible began the use of Switt's Specific. was incurable, and with all scepiters pos-sible began the use of Swift's Specific. Now, after three months' use of it, there is not a slugle appearance of cruption on my body—my skin is clear and smooth, and my general health is as good as it ever was. I am a well man, and S. S. JOHN S TAGGART, Salamancu, N.Y.

After suffering from the worst Blood Discases for more than two years, and having been treated by several EMINENT PHY-SICIANS, confined to my room and bed the greater part of the time, my body covered with copper colored sores from the size of a pea to that of a silver half dollar, I was well nigh in despair. At hast I commenced taking S S S. In a short time I began to improve in flesh, all the sores healed, and I COULD FFEL AND KNOW that I was well, and to S S S must the credit be given. IN A CRITICAL CONDITION. Silvey in Jail.

Officer Mike White Planging Between Life and Death—Silvey in Jall.

The particulars of the assault upon Officer Mike White by Spurgeon Silvey several days ago is still fresh in the minds of the public. Since the cutting Officer White has been confined to his bed, but until a few days ago his recovery was anticipated by his friends. Day before yesterday he began to sink rapidly and for several hours the doctors gave up all loopes of his recovery. This sudden change was communicated to Chief Connolly, who at once caused Silvey to be arrested an confined in jail. The day after Silvey made the assault apon Officer White he was released upon bond. At that time the officer's condition was not considered dangerous, and Silvey's bond was a small one, but the recent change in his condition induced the chief of police to cause the rearrest. Officer White's wound seems indi-posed to heal and a high fever adds greatly to his danger. Dr Armstrong, his attending physician, jays him two visits a day and says that the officer's condition is exceedingly critical, but has not abandoned all hopes of his recovery. Yesterday a justice of the peace was taken to Officer White's residence for the purpose of securing his statement concerning the cutting, but after some consultation with the solicitor and the physician, just was not deemed necessary. Silvey has been indicted by the grand jury now in session. The case is one of peculiar interest, and Officer White's condition is watched with great anxiety.

NEW *ORK. October 12-11:00 a, m.—The stock market opened at a general decline of 1/k@\(^4\) per cent from yesterday's closing figures; Richinond and West Point, however, was \(^6\)/s and Illinos Central 1\(^6\)/s per cent higher. Immediately after the opening prices sold up a fract on, after which the list fell off 1/k@\(^6\)/s per cent, Louisville and Nashville, Richmond and Danville and Alleghany Central being most prominent in the decline, while Richmond and West Point dropped to 36 from 30\(^6\)/s. After this the market became strong and an advance of \(^6\)/s and \(^6\)/s per cent took place in which Illinois Central, New Jersey Central and Northern Pacific preferred were most conspicuous. Since noon Richm and and Danville has dropped to 64 from 70.

ening of the Winter Session of the Atlanta Medica College—The Southern Medical College—Impor-tant Papers Read—Interesting Incidents of the Day—A Portrait Presentation.

The winter session of the Atlanta medical college opened yesterday. There was a large audience in the auditorium of the college building to hear the opening address by Dr. Armstrong. Dr. Armstrong was introduced by Dr. Gray and delivered an exceedingly able and interesting address on the subject of vaccination. He stated that the subject chosen would have to be treated from its earliest history up to the present time. Prior to the discov-ery of the powers of vaccination small-pox was ery of the powers of vaccination small-pox was the scourge of the world. At the time of the discovery 45,000 people died annually from small-pox in Great Britain alone, to say nothing of the balance of the world. In those times there was a statement current that persous who had had cow-powere not subject to small-pox. It was noticed that milk maids were more or less exempt. That was the key and with it Jenner began the study of the great question which has resulted in so much good to humanity. Edward Jenner was born at Berkley, 3 boucestershire England, May 17, 1749, and was educated in his profession, and after embarking gained an enviable reputation. The speaker went out to speak of many of the incidents of Jenner's life and of the high esteem in which ne was held. Jenner appealed to the local medical society to lavestigate the subject of cow-pox and its relations to small pox, but received only derision and even a threat of expulsion for his efforts. Jenner found great difficulty in getting up any interest in the investigation which he proposed; but having had his mind called to the subject before he was grown, and with such force, he could not be driven from his purpose to make a thorough investigation. He persisted, and became so well satisfied that in 1759 he inoculated his oldest child with swine pox, and to test the matter fully he, at five times afterward, inoculated his child with small-pox without the slightest effect. That was a great triumph for his patients study and work. He experimented with cow pox and finally was able to announce beyond doubt the successfully done. The speaker went on to trace the history of vaccination after the went on the hearts of the people who have and will come after him. The next thing was the passing of the virus from one human being's arm to that of another, which, after much labor, was finally successfully done. The speaker went on to trace the history of vaccination after thecame a pronounced success, and during its battle with prejudice which even now is not ended the scourge of the world. At the time of the discovery 45,000 people died annually from small-pox

The college starts the session with brighter prosect than ever. There are over one hundred stunts on the rolls, which number will doubtless doubled in a short time, as it usually happens at the first day sees only about half the students ho will attend. There have been no changes in ofessorships.

THE SOUTHERN MEDICAL COLLEGE.

Yesterday was the opening of the winter session of the Southern medical college. There was a large gathering of ladies and gentlemen in the auditorium. Dr W P Nicolson presided. It was expected that Dr Owens would deliver the opening address, but on account of illness he was unable to be present. Dr T's Fowell, president of the college, was substituted for him. After prayer by Rev Dr Foute Dr Powell was introduced, but before he had recovered from the profound bow which he made Dr. Word arose and asked him to pause a moment. Dr. Powell was evident surprise, perhaps, with a bit of vexation. Dr. Word advanced to where a veiled picture was hanging on the wall, and said:

"I have a pleasing duty to perform, at the request of the students, and that is to make known the fact that the college is this day the recipient of a valuable and very acceptable gift, which we will presently show you."

It is all very acceptance gits, which we will presently show you."

"Coming as it does, a voluntary and unexpected fering from the class, one which compliments our esident and honors the institution, I feel that it is for our warmest thanks; and, in behalf of the oulty, I do most cordially acknowledge this kind digenerous act, thank them for the gift, and aster them that it is most warmly appreciated by a faculty, and by the board of trustees.

"We receive and will preserve it as walued token of the high escimate ich the students place upon the Southern medi I college and its founders has 'signified in thus noring our president, Dr. Thomas S. Powell, to lose public spirit and indomitable energy we are greatly indebted for the existence and success of is institution, and now, to the audience and to

ATLANTA, October 12, 1882.—Editors Constitution: In the reported proceedings of the county commissioners at their meeting on the 11th instant, you state that a resolution in reference to voting the chaingang, offered at a previous meeting, did not meet with a second. The facts are that original resolution was seconded and would have passed then, but, at the urgent request of Mr. Hunnicutt, a member of the board, action on it was postponed until our next meeting as a courtesy to Judge Hoyt. When it came up for action on the 11th instant, rudge Hoyt and Mr. Hunnicutt publicly admitted at they ordered the chaingang voted, and ased the entire responsibility. Under these cirtances, (the board being equally divided upon option of the resolution), we were content to order preventing the abuse in future. We

LETTER FROM CLAYTON'S ORIGINAL

CHOICE. JONESBORO, Ga., October 12, 1882.—To the People of Clayton county: My fellow-citizens of this county, in an organized manner, did me the hono of presenting my name to the recent senatorial con vention in Atlanta. The delegates from this county acted nobly and bravely in my behalf and in behalf of presenting my name to the recent senatorial convention in Atlanta. The delegates from this county acted nobly and bravely in my behalf and in behalf of Clayton county. Judge S. B. Hoyt, of Fulton, was nominated. At a meeting of our citizens, very soon after the nomination, Mr. D. P. Ferguson, of Clayton, was placed forward as a candidate. As to the wisdom of thus placing forward Mr. Ferguson or as to the wisdom of the policy adopted by the immediate friends of Mr. Ferguson and shose having the campaign in charge, it is not now necessary to speak; enough to say is that he made a grand fight in the interest of Clayton county's right to the senatorship, nor was Cobb and Fulton beking in their generous and noble support in our behalf.

The result of its campaign is known to most of you, Judge Hoyt has been declared elected by a vote of 11s majority. Mr. Ferguson declares his intention to contest the election of Judge Hoyt, and as I learn, says that its contest is inaugurated at the instance of the people of Clayton county. I believe no formal meeting of our citizens was had to decide the question. My impression is that a very respectable portion of the citizens of this county do not favor the contest and that quite a large proportion of our people would be opposed to lift they understood fully the situation. I cannot of course, in this letter, discuss at length the entire field; but having resided among you for some years and been the recipient of many favors at your hands, I feel it my duty to place my-self on record in any matter affecting the real interest of our county and section.

In the first place, all contests are of doubtful policy when it is where gross and outrageous frauds have been perpetrated. The policy of this state has been, and is in favor, of settling all questions of individual preference to office at the ballot box, and under the sworm witnesses of her citizens lawfully empowered to receive and count its ballots. The most effectual way of succeeding in a contest is not to inaugurate it. Why

A WORD TO OUR READERS

When you read of a medicine that will cure all diseases, beware of it, for every scientific physician on earth knows how fallacious such statements are. But when you read of a medicine compounded by a regular physician and surgeon of high standing that claims to cure only a certain disease, and furnishes high proof that it does this, you can safely try it, and with the assurance that it will cure you. DR. V. R. STONE, late physician and surgeon of the U. S. A., has placed before the public a preparation called which no doubt is the greatest scientide preparation yet discovered for the cure of dyspepsia in all its forms, and refers to thousands of ladies and gentlemen of the highest respectability that have been cured of cases pronounced incurable by the best physicians in the country. The following referances should be sufficient to convince the most sceptical:

A PROCLAMATION.

BY ALFRED H. COLQUITT,

Governor of said State.

Whereas, The Hon, Alexander H. Stephens, Representative in the 45th Congress of the United States from the Eighth Congressional District of this State, has tendered his resignation of said office, to take effect on the 4th day of November next, and the same having been accepted by this department.

Now, therefore, I have thought proper to issue this my proclamation ordering that an election be held on Tuesday the seventh day of November next, in the counties of Columbia, Elbert, Glascock, Greene, Hancock, Hart, Jefferson, Johnson, Lincoln, McDuffle, Oglethorpe, Richmond, Taliaferro, Warren, Washington, and Wilkes, comprising the Eighth Congressional District in said State, for one representative to fill the unexpired term of Hon. Alexander H. Stephens, resigned as aforesaid.

Given under my hand and great seal of the State, at the Capitol, in Atlanta, the sixth day of October, A.D., 1882, and of the Independence of the United States of America, the one hundred and seventh.

ALFRED H. COLQUITT, Governor. Governor of said State.

ALFRED H. COLQUITT, Governor.

ASHEVILLE AND SPARTANBURG

__OF__

RAILROAD STOCK. WE WILL SELL, IN FRONT OF THE GATE CITY NATIONAL BANK,

In the City of Atlanta, at 12 o'clock, M., on TUESDAY, THE 17TH OCTOBER INSTANT,

THE INTEREST OF

of Georgia in the Asheville and Spartanburg and Railroad. This interest is about one tenth, and is measured by t 'atio that fifty-three one thousand dollar Bonds of the Spartanburg and Asheville Railroad Company bears to the whole number that united in the purchase of said 8 & A R and the formation of the Asheville and Spartanburg Railroad Co. The number that united in the purchase is known not to exceed 570, and probably does not exceed 550.

All the purchase money has been paid, the new company has no debt whatever, is making money, and has money in the treasury. No stock has yet been issued, but the capital stock is $1,050,000, and the company is the owner of a property which has cost over $500,004, and which, when a link of about twenty miles between Hendersonville and Asheville is completed will be immensely valuable.

An examination of the map will convince any thoughtful person that the interest we offer for sale is now worth at least $53,000, and will be worth double that within the next five years, but it must be sold for what it will bring. Major James Anderson, of Spartanburg, the superintendent of the railroad, will give any information desired.
